

Martin Unger (Ph.D.)

Martin Unger studied sociology at the University of Vienna and has been working as a university researcher at the Institute for Advanced Studies in Vienna since 1998. Among other things, he has been conducting student and graduate surveys for more than 25 years and has long been responsible for data collection in the participating countries and the international comparability of the data in EUROSTUDENT and EUROGRADUATE. In Austria he also does many analyses with register data (student and graduate tracking) and carries out evaluations of political measures. He has also been a long-time member of the Bologna Working Group on the Social Dimension.
